Building Materials Update

To our valued industry partners, Supply chain challenges continue to evolve and shift as we progress through 2021.

Key factors that continue to add pressure are global competition for raw materials, transportation and labour shortages. Raw materials such as resins, paper, semiconductors, steel, copper and aluminum supplies continue to be low.

Container costs and port congestion continue to be an issue. Regular container pricing has jumped to $25,000 USD + and premium service container rates are $30,000 USD + with no end in sight as to when these will start to fall. The demand for product continues to be high.
