Meet our Workforce Development Manager, Amanda Wright

We're excited to welcome Amanda Wright as our first-ever Workforce Development Manager. With a strong background in hiring, team development and management, Amanda brings a wealth of knowledge to our team.

How Amanda Can Support You

Amanda is passionate about helping members grow in their careers and make meaningful connections while also assisting businesses in preparing for tomorrow. Here's how she can help you succeed:

- Career Fairs and Outreach: Amanda helps member businesses find career fair opportunities for recruiting talent and represents the industry through Let's Go Build and other outreach campaigns.
- Job Board Management: She oversees job postings, connects with job seeker organizations and collaborates with educational institutions and professional groups to attract top talent to keep your business well-staffed.
- Team Building Guidance: Amanda believes that success comes from building the right teams, not just making the right hires. She'll help you access HR and educational resources so your company's culture continues to thrive.

Why This Role Matters

Our industry is growing rapidly and keeping up can be a challenge. Amanda is here to help ensure your success by keeping you ahead of the curve.
